Biography

Professor Michael Barnes MD

Hon Professor of neurological rehabilitation,
University of Newcastle

President of Medical Cannabis Clinicians Society

President of Cannabis Industry Council

Prof Barnes is a neurologist and has been interested in the medical application of cannabis for about 20 years. His initial interest was the management of spasticity. In 2018 he oversaw the first prescription of cannabis in the UK, to the child Alfie Dingley. When the law changed that year, he founded the Medical Cannabis Clinicians Society and then the Cannabis Industry Council in 2012. He runs Maple Tree Medical Cannabis consultancy with the campaigner and mother of Alfie Dingley, Hannah Deacon.
